Welcome to Agrios

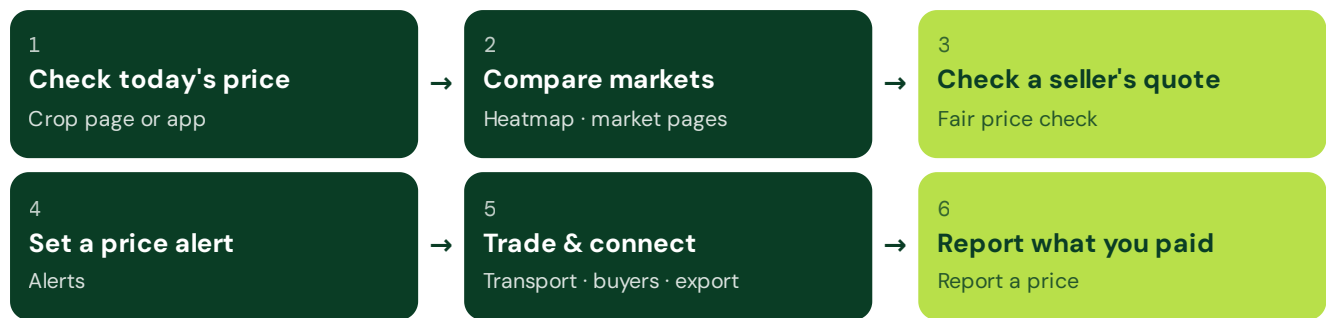

Agrios helps farmers, traders, buyers, transporters and exporters in Nigeria answer one question before they trade: what is this crop really worth today, and where? It works in any phone or computer browser at useagrios.com — no download needed.

This guide covers every part of Agrios as it works today. Where a feature is still being built, or a listing is an example rather than a real partner, the guide says so plainly — so you always know what you can rely on.

What's new since version 1.0 (August 2026)

- Every price now shows where it came from: WFP data Community or Estimate.
- Public price pages for every crop, every major market and every crop at each market — they open fast and you can share them.
- Is this price fair? — check a seller's quote in seconds, per bag, per kg or per crate.
- Weekly Nigeria food price report, a price-per-kg calculator and a free price data download.
- Stricter price reports — units are converted before checking, and a price only goes live when a second trader confirms it.
- Transport, buyer and export actions now do what they say, and example listings are clearly labelled.

Your journey on Agrios

↻ Every price you report makes the next check more accurate — and builds your Crop Credit Score.

Which parts matter most to you

You are a...	Your main goal	Start with
 Farmer	Know a fair price before you sell; find buyers	Crop price pages, Fair price check, Alerts, Farmer directory
 Trader / aggregator	Buy low, sell high, time your moves	Heatmap, market pages, Alerts, Transport
 Transporter	Find and accept haulage jobs	Transport — open jobs, register vehicle
 Buyer / processor	Source produce at a target price	Buyer demand board, Fair price check, Farmer directory
 Exporter	Compare local and export prices	Export, crop pages for cocoa, sesame, cashew

Getting started

1. Open Agrios

Go to useagrios.com in Chrome, Safari or any browser. You can browse every price, page and tool without an account.

If the first load is slow

Agrios's server can take up to a minute to wake after a quiet period. Wait, then refresh — prices appear once it answers. Public price pages (for example useagrios.com/prices/rice/) always open instantly.

2. Create your free account

An account lets you set price alerts, report prices, post jobs and demands, and see your Crop Credit Score. Tap Sign in → Create account.

Field	What to enter	Required?
Full name	Your real name	Yes
Email	An address you check — alerts are sent here	Yes
Password	At least 8 characters	Yes
Phone	Your Nigerian number (for WhatsApp alerts when they launch)	Recommended
State and role	Where you trade, and whether you farm, trade, drive, buy or export	Recommended
Farmers: list me for buyers	Tick to appear in the Farmer directory with your LGA, crops and harvest size	Optional

3. Add Agrios to your phone's home screen

- Android (Chrome): tap Install when the "Install Agrios on your phone" banner appears, or open the  menu → Add to Home screen.
- iPhone (Safari): tap the Share button → Add to Home Screen.

Agrios then opens like an app. It opens even without signal, but shows example prices until you're back online.

How to read a price

Every price on Agrios has four parts. Reading all four stops you being caught out.

Part	What it means
Unit	The measure the price is for — 50kg bag, 100kg bag, crate, basket, bunch, 25L can or tonne. Always compare the same unit.
Average, low, high	The typical price at that market today, and the range you'll usually be quoted.
Source	WFP data from the World Food Programme's Nigeria market monitoring. Community reported by traders and confirmed by a second report. Estimate modeled from seasonal and regional patterns — a guide, not a price someone paid.
Confidence	How much weight to give the number. Observed prices score higher than estimates.

Honest about coverage

On 29 September 2026, Agrios listed 128 crop-and-market prices across 12 markets; 48 of them (38%) were observed prices and the rest estimates. That share rises as traders report prices — see Report a price.

Prices in the app refresh every two minutes while you have it open. The underlying market data changes daily, not minute by minute.

Features, step by step

Crop price pages

Every crop has its own page, e.g.

useagrios.com/prices/maize/. It shows:

- The national average, cheapest and highest market today, and the price per kg
- A table of every market, cheapest first, each with its source
- A recent price trend chart (dashed when it includes estimates)
- The crop's name in Hausa, Yoruba and Igbo, and common questions answered

Tap a market in the table to open that crop at that market — e.g. rice at Mile 12 — with its rank against every other market. Market pages (e.g. /markets/dawanau-market-kano/) list every crop at one market.

Share on WhatsApp sends today's price and the link in one tap.

✓ Is this price fair?

Use this at the market, before you pay. Open useagrios.com/tools/fair-price-check/ or the box on any crop page.

- 1 Choose the crop and the market (or "All markets").
- 2 Enter the price the seller quoted.
- 3 Choose what the price is for — per bag, per kg, per 25/50/100kg bag.
- 4 Tap Check this price.

You get one of four answers, with the numbers behind it:

Answer	Meaning
Fair price	At or near today's average
On the high side	Above average, within the usual range
Overpriced	Above the usual range
Below the usual range	Cheap — check the weight and quality

Crates, baskets and bunches aren't a fixed weight, so enter those prices per crate, basket or bunch.

Agrios

Open app

Agrios > Tools > Fair price check

Is this price fair?

Enter the price a seller quoted you. Agrios checks it against today's prices at that market — or across Nigeria — and tells you if it's fair.

Overpriced

Your quote works out to ₦100,000 per 50kg bag (from ₦2,000 per kg) — 62% above today's average of ₦61,809 at all markets (8). Usual range: ₦57,009 – ₦66,192.

Based on 8 observed prices (WFP / community reports). See all Rice prices →

₦2,000 per kg of rice = ₦100,000 per 50kg bag — overpriced against real prices.

⚖ Price per kg calculator

At useagrios.com/tools/price-per-kg/. Enter any price and quantity; Agrios gives the price per kg and per 25kg, 50kg and 100kg bag and per tonne. Use it when sellers quote in different bag sizes.

Market heatmap

Tap Heatmap and pick a crop. Markets are ranked from the best place to sell (highest price) to the best place to buy (lowest). Before you move stock between states, compare the price gap with the cost of transport.

Price alerts

- 1 Sign in and tap Alerts → + New alert.
- 2 Pick the crop and a market or state.
- 3 Pick a condition: price rises above ₦, drops below ₦, or increases / decreases by more than % since yesterday.
- 4 Enter your target, choose In-app + email or In-app only, then Create alert.

Agrios checks your alerts every few minutes and notifies you when the condition is met. Your alerts are saved to your account, so they work on any device; switch them on and off or delete them any time. WhatsApp alerts are coming soon — the option is shown but can't be selected yet.

Free accounts can keep 2 alerts on at once; Pro and Business have no limit.

Report a price

Seen or paid a price today? Reporting it makes Agrios more accurate for everyone and builds your Crop Credit Score.

- 1 Tap Report. Choose the crop, the unit exactly as you were quoted (50kg bag, per kg, crate...), the market and state.
- 2 Enter the price, the date, and optionally your LGA, a note and a photo.
- 3 Tap Submit price report. You'll see what happened straight away:

Message	What it means
Accepted and live	Your price agreed with another trader's recent report, so it now updates that market.
Accepted — goes live once confirmed	Your price looks right. It goes public when a second trader reports a similar price within 7 days.
Sent for review	It's far from recent prices, or the unit can't be compared. An admin checks it.
Not accepted	Far outside today's range. Check the unit and the number, then try again.

Why two traders?

One report can be a mistake — or someone trying to move the price. Agrios converts every report to the market's unit first (so a per-kg price is compared fairly with a 50kg-bag price), and only publishes when two different traders agree within 15%.

Weekly food price report

Every week Agrios publishes a report at useagrios.com/reports/: national average prices for each crop, the change on the week, and the biggest moves in observed prices only.

Follow it in any news reader with the RSS feed useagrios.com/reports/feed.xml, or share the link in your trader groups.

Download the price data

useagrios.com/data/ has today's prices as a free CSV file (crop, market, state, prices, unit, source). You're free to reuse it with credit to Agrios. Researchers and journalists: the source column tells you which rows are observed.

Transport

Farmers and traders — post a job

Tap Transport → Post a job. Enter pickup and delivery state, crop, quantity, your budget and pickup date. Drivers browsing open jobs see it.

Transporters — find and accept jobs

- Browse Open jobs, sorted by urgency.
- View route opens driving directions in Google Maps.
- Accept job marks the job as yours so other drivers stop seeing it. Then contact the farmer to arrange pickup — Agrios does not yet send the farmer a message for you.
- Register vehicle adds your truck, base state and rate so farmers can find you.

Landing cost calculator

Choose a crop, destination market and quantity to estimate the cost of moving produce, so you can see whether a price gap between markets is worth the trip.

Buyer demand board

Tap Demand to see what buyers want: crop, quantity, target price, delivery place and deadline. Filter by crop or state.

- Respond with produce calls or emails the buyer directly.
- The  button takes you to Transport to arrange delivery.
- Posting your own buying request from the app is coming soon — until then, email it to info@useagrios.com.

Listings marked Sample listing show how the board works — they are not real buyers.

Farmer directory

Farmers who ticked "let buyers contact me" appear here with their state, LGA and crops — never their phone number. Listing yourself is free. Buyers on Pro can send a contact request, which is recorded for the Agrios team to connect you (automatic notification to farmers is coming).

Export

- The price comparison shows local prices next to export benchmark prices for cocoa, sesame, cashew, hibiscus, soybean, groundnut and palm oil, with the grade buyers require and the usual port. Export benchmarks are updated periodically, not daily.
- Find export buyers: tell us your crop, quantity, phone and state. The Agrios team reviews each inquiry and follows up with you directly to match you with an export agent.
- Export agent directory: entries marked Example listing show how the directory will work; they are not partners.

Finance — your Crop Credit Score

Your score runs from 300 to 1,000. It updates each time you report a price and again every night:

Part	Up to	How to raise it
Reports submitted	250	5 points per report, up to 50 reports
Accuracy	250	Share of your reviewed reports that were accepted — report carefully
Market activity	250	Report from the markets you trade in — full marks from 4 different markets
Acceptance history	250	Keep your share of accepted reports high

Grades: Excellent 850+, Very Good 750+, Good 650+, Fair 550+, Poor below 550.

Agrios does not lend money

The lenders shown on the Finance page are marked Example — they show the kind of terms licensed lenders offer. Agrios has not signed a lending partner yet. Register interest records your request so we can contact you when a partner is live; nothing is sent to a lender today. You need a free account, at least ₦50,000, and a score at or above the lender's minimum (500–600).

Market opportunities

On the home screen, opportunity cards point out price gaps and trends from today's prices. They're labelled either "Generated from today's Agrios prices" or "Illustrative examples". Treat them as prompts to check, not advice — each button opens the page where you can check the numbers.

Tips from traders

1 • Check before you leave home

Open the crop page for what you're buying or selling. Note the average and the usual range, so the first quote you hear already has a yardstick.

2 • Always compare the same unit

A "bag" isn't always 50kg. When quotes come in different sizes, run them through the price-per-kg calculator.

3 • Look at the source label

Give more weight to WFP data and Community prices than to Estimate.

4 • Set an alert at your selling price

Know the price you want for your maize? Set a "rises above" alert and stop checking every day.

5 • Price gaps aren't profit until transport is paid

Before moving stock to a dearer market, use the landing cost calculator.

6 • Report what you actually paid

Every accepted report makes Agrios more accurate for your market and raises your Crop Credit Score.

Troubleshooting

Problem	What to do
Prices show "Example" or won't load	The server may be waking up — wait up to a minute and refresh. Crop pages at useagrios.com/prices/ always load.
Can't sign in	Check your email spelling; passwords are case-sensitive and at least 8 characters.
My price report wasn't accepted	Check the unit matches what you were quoted (per kg vs per bag) and the number has no extra zero.
I can't add a third alert	Free accounts keep 2 alerts on at once — switch one off, or upgrade to Pro.
A buyer or agent says "Sample" or "Example"	It's a demonstration entry, not a real business. Don't try to trade with it.

Privacy

Agrios never shows your phone number or email publicly. The Farmer directory shows only what you chose to share, and only if you opted in. Price reports are published as prices, not with your name.
